MESSAGE FROM THE FOUNDERS

CAFÉ DRAGÓN: A DREAM TURNED COMMUNITY

In 2024, Café Dragón was born in Argentina as an independent platform created by fans, for fans, specializing in news and analysis of RPG and tactical games. With a dedicated team, we provide authentic, direct content without intermediaries, including reviews, interviews, and podcasts. More than just a platform, we are a community that shares a passion for video games.

“

2024 marks the beginning of Café Dragón, a dream that started as an idea among friends passionate about video games and evolved into a purpose-driven project.

Our goal is to create a space where fans can find authentic content, honest reviews, and share experiences directly. We also aim to answer questions, help games reach a broader audience, and collaborate on solving issues before they reach the consumer.

We thank our growing community and our team, whose passion makes this dream possible. We will continue working to make Café Dragón more than just a platform, but a meeting point for those who love video games. This is just the beginning!

THE DEFINITIVE PROJECT

MORE ABOUT US

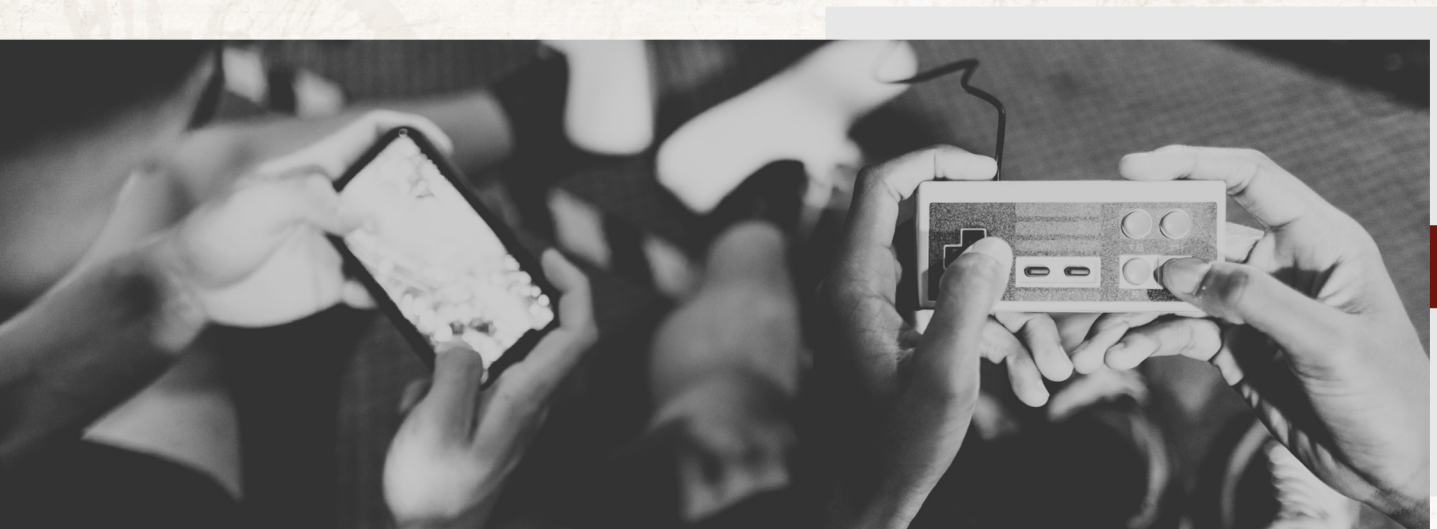

Café Dragón is an independent, self-managed, non-profit project born from a love for video games and a passion for sharing authentic experiences. Since its creation in 2024, this platform has operated with a small yet dedicated team, where each member contributes their talent in defined roles: BelmontValentine leads content creation, Chio Chan handles design and social media management, and together they manage collaborations and external relations. This effort is further supported by passionate collaborators, such as analysts and translators, who contribute in a relaxed and selfless manner.

Our mission is to be a leading voice in the RPG and tactical genre, spotlighting video games and developers that need a space to shine. In the long term, we aim to build direct partnerships with the industry, always keeping our focus on authenticity and 'no middlemen' content.

The purpose behind Café Dragón is simple yet powerful: to share our passion for video games while supporting those who share that dream. We are driven by a love for the craft, transparency, humility, and collaboration—values that allow us to connect with both players and creators within this unique community.

Thanks to direct interaction with the community through Discord and social media, we foster a space for the exchange of ideas and experiences that enriches the project.

At Café Dragón, we know that good ideas can be replicated, but our dedication and authenticity make us unmatched.

ADVENTURES 'S REVIEWS

We have recently had the pleasure of collaborating with Café Dragón, and the experience has been nothing but positive.

They take their work very seriously and are true professionals. We will undoubtedly collaborate again on future video games.

José Ginés Picón López
CEO/Valhalla Cats

I worked with Café Dragón and provided them with a code to test my game. They were one of the most helpful and responsive websites I've worked with, and everything they offered was top-notch. I highly recommend them, as this is now the standard I expect from game websites.

Although we have not yet reached the optimal financial results normalized worldwide, we continue moving forward with the conviction that our growth will reflect our connection with readers and players. With this statement alone, we are already more than happy.
